About Our Docent:

Matthew Leonard is an Australia-born, Peekskill-based independent audio and multimedia documentary and feature filmmaker. His work has been broadcast on every major global English-language public broadcaster including NPR, CBC and BBC Radio 4. He is the winner of Australia's highest achievement for broadcast documentary - the Walkley Award (2000) and has extensive experience in cross-cultural collaborations with Indigenous people through art and media. Before arriving in Peekskill he was manager of the Wirnda Barna Aboriginal Art Centre in remote Western Australia.
